Important Note about the IRS

The IRS has vastly expanded its audit programs as it has been directed by Congress to “close” the tax gap. As a result, more audits and spot checks are to be expected. Protect yourself: keep good records, and keep them for at least seven years. Never ignore correspondence from tax authorities. The IRS has a tendency to bill for taxes and penalties without first checking the facts, so be wary.

Warnings about Identity Theft

The IRS does not send out unsolicited emails or phone calls requesting detailed personal information. Such authentic-looking emails are called “phishing” emails and responding may expose you to identity theft. If you receive such an email from the IRS, send a copy of the email to phishing@irs.gov. Please do not respond to the email unless the email requests you send to the IRS has been verified as legitimate. You may also contact our office regarding any correspondence, written or electronic, that you receive from the IRS.

Electronic Filing Mandate

IRS regulations require paid tax preparers who expect to prepare and file 11 or more federal individual or trust tax returns to file them electronically. To comply with this requirement, your return will be electronically filed this year. The benefits of e-filing include a secure way to file tax returns and it provides proof that the IRS has accepted your return for processing. Contact our office if you prefer to have your return filed on paper.

Information on Your Confidentiality

Like all providers of personal financial services, tax professionals are required by law to inform clients of their policies regarding privacy of client information. Our firm continues to adhere to professional standards of confidentiality that are even more stringent than those required by law. We have always protected the security and privacy of your personal and financial information.

Types of Nonpublic Personal Information We Collect

The only nonpublic personal information we collect is provided to us by you or obtained with your authorization.

Parties to Whom We Disclose Information

We do not disclose any nonpublic personal information obtained in the course of our practice except as required or permitted by law. Permitted disclosures may include providing information to our employees, or, in limited situations, to unrelated third parties who need that information to assist us in serving you. In all situations, we stress the confidential nature of the information being shared.

Protecting the Confidentiality and Security of Clients’ Information

We retain records relating to our professional services to better serve your professional needs and, in some cases, to comply with professional guidelines. In order to protect your nonpublic personal information, we maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards that comply with our professional standards.

Thank you for your past patronage and we look forward to serving you in the upcoming tax season.
